Who to call at Hopewell?

Good communication is vital to your child's success in school. Anytime you have questions or concerns about any part of your child's school day, your child's teacher should always be your first contact. There is no person better than our teachers to address initial student questions or concerns. Our teachers know our students best and have an excellent rapport and understanding of each child. Your child's teacher will address and resolve your questions and follow up with your child. You may also contact our special subject teachers directly for questions related to art, music, physical education/health, library and tech smarts. Teachers consult and collaborate regularly with our multi-tiered system of support (MTSS) team. If your child has an IEP or 504 Plan, you should contact the special education teacher, gifted support teacher, speech teacher or guidance counselor directly, depending on your child's plan.

Our MTSS team consists of a reading specialist, intervention specialist for math and behavior, guidance counselor, special education teachers, gifted support teacher, IU related services professionals, speech teacher, nurse, school psychologist and principal. If your question or concern is of a higher level of importance, our teachers know when to refer or seek assistance from the MTSS team. We follow a clear process for questions, concerns, issues and behaviors that are teacher managed vs. office managed.

School related papers are sent home daily in homework folders – please check them daily for homework and school related information. Students in grades 2 and 3 receive school agendas paid for by our PTA, please check them daily as well. Monthly PTA newsletters, a monthly school calendar and our website also contain important parent and student information.

Hopewell teachers can be reached between the hours of 8:15 a.m. and 3:45 p.m. Please understand telephone calls received during the instructional day will be auto forwarded to teacher's voicemail so instruction is not interrupted. Teachers can also be contacted through email by lastnamefirstinitial@slsd.org (no spaces). Emergencies or communications of a timely nature should be communicated through our school secretaries to the teacher.
